

EMA/HMA European Platform for Regulatory Science Research

13th Industry Standing Group meeting 30 June 2025

Presented by Liese Barbier and Ralf Herold Regulatory Science and Innovation Taskforce

A strategic approach to Advancing regulatory science research

European Platform for Regulatory Science Research

- Advancing research in regulatory science for improving the development and evaluation of medicines
- Research experience is substantial, yet communities fragmented and impact suboptimal
- A Platform to:
 - foster collaboration among and between academic researchers and regulatory scientists from Europe and beyond on key topics in regulatory science research
 - accelerate research, focusing on questions of common interest, informing research and funding on these key questions, increasing the usefulness and translation of research solutions in the work of regulators and developers
 - support growth of research community engaging on regulatory science

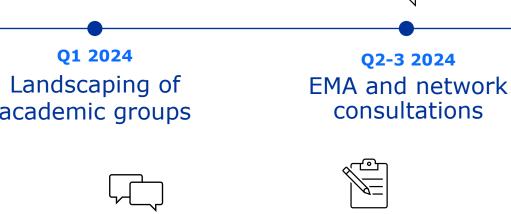

Q4 2024

Public event

18 November 2024

Steering group meetings, ToR development, involvement of stakeholders, ...

02-3 2024 Draft concept paper development

Q4 2024 Call for Expression of Interest

Q1 2025

Q3 2025 Second Platform meeting, 29/09

meeting

Working model

Steering group

Co-chairs and SG members

Observers

Guests

Researcher and regulator representatives

Industry, funders, HTA, patients, HCPs

Platform participant community

Researchers and regulators

2 – 3 meetings per year

Repository of meeting reports, outputs and tools

Information on opportunities, relevant news, initiatives

(Temporary topic-specific groups) e.g., on selected RSRN priorities

Latest and next steps

- Gaining experience with first meetings and preparing the Terms of Reference
- Public consultation responses being finalised
- As anticipated in the draft Concept Paper, the Steering Group is planning to have an industry observer
- Steering Group is discussing how to invite industry scientists ad hoc to meetings
- Update on timeline anticipated after the next Steering Group meeting

Thank you

regulatory.science@ema.europa.eu

European Platform for Regulatory Science Research | European Medicines Agency (EMA)